Claims 1,6,8,11,17,18 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, line 18, the phrase "pressed to cooperate the securing piece", is confusing and unclear. The same applies to claim 11.

Claims 6,17,18 as a whole are confusing in setting forth the safety lock and its function and cooperation with the other elements.

In claims 8 and 20, the phrase "with the arm each other", is confusing and unclear.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3,5,7,10-14,16,19 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Turner et al.

Figures 1-6 show structure as claimed, including an adjustable backrest with a guiding piece 84, an actuating piece 138, transmitting piece 148, sliding piece 132, and securing piece 122, which engages "flutes" 130,131 for securing the backrest at a predetermined angle.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Turner et al in view of Onishi et al.

To have formed the seat assembly of Turner et al with a plurality of recesses for allowing the backrest to adjust to several positions, such as is shown to be conventional by Onishi et al (fig. 7), would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art, thereby increasing the versatility thereof.

Claims 8 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Turner et al in view of Smitz.

The use of vertically adjustable trays for seats is old and well known in the art as shown by Smitz (fig. 1) and in view of this suggestion, to have provided such a vertically adjustable tray in place of, or in addition to, the tray of Turner et al, would have been an obvious modification to one with ordinary skill in the art, thereby allowing adjustment based on an occupant's size.

Claims 6,17 and 18 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 9 and 21 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Poskin, Spector et al, Peterson, Young, Kato et al, Gregor et al show various features of the invention.
